STROBE CONNECTORS

IMPORTANT NOTICE ON COMPLIANCE

Not All strobes and camera combination will offer TTL, please check with the manufacturer of your strobes for compatibility*

- (1) Can be used for TTL with housed flash or third party TTL converter (2) TTL is not available with these connectors
- (2) TTL is not available with these connectors
- (3) This bulkhead assembly is for Nikon film camera housings (required for eTTL)
- (4) This hot shoe is for the Nikon D700, D3s & D90 housing
- (5) This hotshoe is for current housing for Nikon cameras

* A comprehensive description of all Aquatica strobe connectors is available from our website.
http://www.aquatica.ca/en/charts/bulkhead_web_field_guide.pdf

Removal and installation of bulkhead connectors can compromise the existing sealing integrity of the housing, therefore it should only be attempted by trained technicians.

After replacing bulkheads connectors, it is mandatory for the safety of the equipment to perform a pressure test in a hydrostatic facility or by using a Surveyor vacuum system. Should these not be available, immerse the housing at depth for at least 30 minutes without any camera related equipment in it to validate the sealing integrity of the housing.
